

Excerpt from-“How To Pleasure Her Orally”-female pov, non fiction

- 1.) Remember there is more to our genitals than just our clitoris, or just our lips, or just our... well you get the idea. Pack a picnic lunch, try all the goodies, stay a while. It's all good and we want it all attended to.
- 2.) Listen as you go so you can adjust speed to the increase (or decrease) of our moans.
- 3.) Please don't hum.
- 4.) Yes, we do like when you tease with the tip of your tongue but for God sake's please don't just use that little part of it! Flatten it, press it hard or soft. And remember, you have lips and a nose as well.
- 5.) When we come stay with us; that is just so damn hot....most of us even want to kiss you after.
- 6.) Please don't hum.
- 7.) Yes, lick the alphabet; we like that.
- 8.) A well placed finger, in various sundry places, can be a real big turn on too. Just go slow, and see how we react to know whether you should press the point (pun intended).
- 9.) Did I mention not to hum?

There's a lot more I could mention, but for now these are the basics to giving your lady a little more than she bargained for. Believe me, the feeling will definitely be reciprocated. Remember, erections are a dime a dozen and we have our own hands for a tickle anytime, but oral pleasure is about the one thing we can't do for ourselves.

So go out there boys and do your duty!
